

Delpark™ Filtration Wastewater Systems & Treatment Solutions

Delpark™ Filtration Wastewater Systems & Treatment Solutions - Providing custom solutions for wastewater treatment.

At a time when our resources are stretched by an ever increasing demand, it is essential that we develop and embrace a strategy to protect and preserve those remaining resources.

Encouraging companies to actively pre treat wastewater prior to sewage disposal or re-use will reduce both their upfront costs as well as avoiding additional costs and surcharges from municipalities in treating unacceptable by-products found in process wastewater.

Municipal regulations for disposal of wastewater effluents are becoming more and more stringent in order to protect our water resources. Fines and surcharges to cope with increased treatment costs can be a financial burden on any business.

Delpark™ Filtration Wastewater Systems & Treatment Solutions customize the process of filtering the contaminants from your waste stream. Treatment solutions can tackle dissolved and/or suspended types of contaminants using proprietary technology engineered to your specific application.

We offer a complete turnkey package of wastewater treatment equipment and technology that can result in significant savings and benefits in your wastewater treatment process. Equipment payback times are considerably shortened by our low cost alternative treatment options.

Delpark™ Filtration Wastewater Systems & Treatment Solutions

The first step in our process evaluation begins with an understanding of your specific process and individual wastewater issues. We look for ways to control and reduce operating costs by effectively managing your wastewater treatment process.

Our next step is to evaluate the actual waste stream by collecting samples and performing an analysis of the overall composition of the wastewater. Our team will determine the best and most economical treatment method through testing of various treatment options.

Once we have identified the most effective and economical way to manage your wastewater and have a complete understanding of your goals, we will recommend a suitable Delpark™ Filtration Wastewater Systems & Treatment Solution tailored to your individual needs.

A complete proposal and quotation will be prepared outlining the equipment and process recommendations for your approval.
